Castle Schönbrunn:

Sisi spent her first time after the marriage with Emperor Franz Joseph in the imperial summer residence. Visit the zoological garden of Schönbrunn – the oldest zoo of the world is also a part of the world culture heritage.

Elisabeth and Franz Joseph have moved in 1857 in the “Kaiserapartments” – the apartments of the Emperor and the Empress – they are still preserved in the original condition. There is also a Sisi Museum in the Hofburg – roughly 250 original objects show the visitors the life of the “Empress of hearts” from all facets of her life.

The Wagenburg in the castle park of Schönbrunn impressed with the housing of the pompous state coaches of the K.u.K monarchy. Also, the imperial cart belongs to this prominent collection, which was probably built for the coronation of Joseph II in 1764 and from this moment forth used for different Emperor’s and King’s coronation of the Habsburgs. The life’s journey of Empress Sissi is very impressive comprehensible at the Wagenburg – from the marching cart as bride pending to Budapest’s coronation carriage, the Genécvé travelling cart and her hearse. Also robes of the Empress, her saddle and pictures of her horses are shown.
